LID WILL BE SCREWED DOWN TIGHT FOR THE NIGHT

Chief of Police W. I. Norton, when asked this morning concerning the probable lifting of the "lid" tonight to please some of the people who expect to celebrate the passing of the old year and the ushering in of the new, said:

"There has been some reports in the newspapers that the 'lid' would probably be removed for tonight, but the writers have secured no ideas from this office that would lead them to think that such a thing would be done. The present liquor law covers New Year's eve, the same as any other night in the year, and I can see no reason why the department should permit the law to be broken tonight any more than at any other time."

"A year ago statements were made in the papers that, as estimated, 500 Ogden people would go to Salt Lake City to celebrate New Year's eve, owing to the difference in the time of closing the saloons and cafes where liquor is sold in the two cities. I did not think that the statements were true and, in order to learn the facts in the matter, I had a poll taken of the number of passengers carried by the Bamberger, Oregon Short Line and Rio Grande trains out of Ogden. This was done with the assistance of the ticket agents of the three roads. A comparison of the sales on New Year's eve, with those of other nights, showed the traffic on that night to be less than normal. The estimate of the three roads showed that only a few more than 100 persons left Ogden and quite a number of them were from intermediate stations between Ogden and Salt Lake City, who had spent the day visiting and doing their holiday marketing here."

Regarding the use of firearms in the city tonight, the Chief said that the officers would be instructed to arrest anyone caught using firearms of any kind, whether they used blank cartridges or not. In other years, when the firing of blank cartridges has been allowed, some persons have stretched a point and used loaded ones. Mr. Norton was very emphatic on this point and said that the law would be absolutely enforced as the danger of injuries resulting from the indiscriminate use of firearms was too great to permit of any chances being taken.

In speaking as he did regarding the closing of the saloons, Chief Norton said that he did not want it understood that he was radical on the subject, but that enforcement of the law at all time was the object of his department.

Last time tonight, the "Big Horn Massacre." Don't miss it. Produced in two parts by the Kalem.—Advertisement.

POSTOFFICE WILL BE CLOSED DURING THE HOLIDAY

The postoffice will be closed all day tomorrow and no deliveries will be made. This announcement was made today and conforms with the order from the department at Washington, that the office be closed on all legal holidays that come on any day but Saturday and conditions are such that it can be done without serious inconvenience.

Assistant Postmaster Rufus Garner said that the system of having one delivery on holidays had practically spoiled the whole day for the employees of the office and that conditions at the office at present were such that by a little extra work on Friday morning the boys can clear the way for the mail that comes in tomorrow. Mr. Garner, however, will have to work tomorrow as he is engaged in making out the payroll and the monthly, quarterly and yearly report.

Wingate, chief counsel for the Long Island railroad, in an effort to save her life from the effects of a slow poison which she took last night. General Wingate said he was sure the poison had been taken by mistake, but the case was nevertheless referred to the district attorney's office for investigation.

SNOW AIDS SHEEP ON WAY TO DESERT RANGES

County Commissioner William C. Hunter states that the recent snow greatly benefited the winter range for sheep but that it was a little too heavy in places. The storm was heavier a few miles west than it was in Ogden. The thaw of today will improve conditions somewhat if the temperature does not fall close to the zero mark immediately after the warm spell.

Mr. Hunter says that many of the sheep herds are now well out on the desert ranges and unless more snow falls, sheep will winter without much loss. There is a good supply of grass on the desert and the snow makes it possible for the herds to get out to it.

FRANK FOUTS NAMED GENERAL AGENT BY RIO GRANDE

Coming as a New Year's present, Frank Fouts, local agent of the Denver and Rio Grande, received a telegram this morning announcing his appointment to the position of general agent with the same company. The appointment will take effect tomorrow.

The telegram came from the general offices at Denver and was signed by general freight agent, Fred Wild and passenger traffic manager, F. A. Wadleigh.

The position is newly created and coming in connection with the building of the new freight depot on lower Twenty-fourth street, is evidence that the Gould lines are giving Ogden recognition as an important shipping center.

Mr. Fouts, who has been honored with the new position, has been in the employ of the Gould lines for 22 years continuously. He has been local agent in Ogden for the past five years. Prior to that time he was employed in Provo, Utah, and also at several points in Colorado.

He will continue to have his office in the city passenger office of the Denver and Rio Grande and his new duties will consist of managing the freight, passenger and operating departments of the Ogden branch of the Denver and Rio Grande.

ENGLISH ASKS TO GO ON U. S. CUTTER

Washington, Dec. 31.—Lord William Percy, son of the Duke of Northumberland, has asked the government for permission to go on the revenue cutter Bear, when she leaves San Francisco for Bering sea next spring, to hunt a species of ducks found only in northern Alaska. He can get to Point Barrow, where the species is found, only by the revenue cutter.

His request is backed by the good offices of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, and his brother, Lord Eustice Percy, an attaché of the British embassy here.

SPANISH DENOUNCE FLEEING GENERALS

Vera Cruz, Dec. 31.—The United States gunboat Dolphin from Santiago, Cuba, arrived here this morning as did also the British vessel, Alabama, which brought sixty refugees mostly Spaniards, from Chiapas. ## INJURIES RECEIVED IN ROBBERY ARE SEVERE

G. A. Hansen will go to the Dee hospital Monday for treatment of injuries sustained when two masked highway men robbed his saloon, December 11, and took away about $300 and some jewelry.

Mr. Hansen says that the desperadoes not only robbed him of his money and watch, but that one of them knocked him down and kicked him, inflicting painful injuries to his back. When taking his watch from his vest pocket, Mr. Hansen says, one of the men struck him a vicious blow in the face felling him to the floor.

Both men were heavily masked, one wearing an ordinary dark handkerchief over his face and the other a mask made of dark cloth which extended well down upon the chest. The men took $200 from the safe and $100 from the cash register.

Mr. Hansen is advised by his doctor that he will be retained in the hospital about a week.

FALL OF SNOW IN THE MONTH OF DECEMBER IS HEAVY

The report of local precipitation for the month of December received from the weather office at the Union Pacific freight station shows 2.52 inches. This is a fair average with that of the past ten or fifteen years, though it is far above December, 1912, which was .41.

Total precipitation for the year 1913 is 20.89 inches as compared with 18.56 for 1912.

The present thaw is regarded as highly beneficial to the farmers as it will cause the snow in the mountains to pack hard and lay in the ravines until summer.

CROWN PRINCE IS GREATLY IMPROVED

London, Dec. 31.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times gives the testimony of an eye witness to the great improvement in the condition of Crown Prince Alexis since August when he still had his left leg encased in supports, could barely hobble and appeared ill. Now, according to his testimony, the prince has discarded the support, walks unaided but drags the leg a little and is bright and rosy cheeked. The attending physician predicts that in a few weeks the leg will be quite supple.

REEVES HOLDS NEW RATES BENEFICIAL

"The benefit to a territory of high incoming freight rates and low outgoing freight rates, such as the railroad propose on commodities into Salt Lake under the new schedule, is that local manufacturers are protected from the outsiders, who otherwise would be able to ship in and undersell them. Then the low outgoing rates make it possible for Utah manufacturers to widen their territory and build up their industries."

This statement was made by J. A. Reeves, general freight agent of the Oregon Short Line, in discussing a recent attack upon the new rates agreed upon at the Denver conference of trans-Missouri railroad representatives. Mr. Reeves says that the higher incoming rates will be a benefit to Utah and that only a few jobbing firms are opposed to them; because they wish to buy their goods in the east and then sell them at a profit in the intermountain territory.

In discussing the statement made that low incoming rates have produced prosperity in Salt Lake and solved the unemployed problem, Mr. Reeves says that freight rates have nothing to do with this problem. He declares that if low incoming rates produced more work, California should have no unemployed problem, for California incoming rates are lower than those of any state in the west.

JURY VERDICT; MINE DISASTER

Explosion in Vulcan Mine Due to Negligence of Mine Owners.

Glenwood Springs, Colo., Dec. 31.—The coroner's jury, which investigated the disaster in the Vulcan mine of the Rocky Mountain Fuel company, in which 37 men were killed, returned a verdict last night finding that the "explosion was due to negligence of the mine owners in failing to take proper precautions in keeping the mine properly sprinkled to prevent the accumulation of dust."

The verdict also criticized the use of open lamps and the use of "match" and smoking in those parts of the mine where only safety lamps should have been used. Further the verdict found that "shots were fired" during working hours.

MISS NINA CADUFF AND DAVID POWERS.

A sensational development in the Western Fuel coal frauds cases in San Francisco last week was the arrest of David Powers, the government's chief witness, on the complaint of Nina Caduff, who alleges that he betrayed her. A grand jury investigation was at once ordered. The government believes that the arrest of Powers was plotted by the wealthy defendants in the case, who wish to discredit the government's witnesses. Miss Caduff made the same complaint against Powers some months ago, but her charges then fell through.
